University of Jamestown will prepare you for the future in ways other schools don’t. We call our approach the Journey to Success, and it defines all we do at University of Jamestown, both in and out of the classroom! With our emphasis on the whole person including mental, physical, and spiritual well-being, we’re here to help you on every step of this exciting journey. We invite you to learn more about the Journey to Success at University of Jamestown.

Look Inward
You’ll look inward by examining your own interests, strengths, and goals. First-year students arriving at University of Jamestown begin their Journey to Success in Journey 101 where you’ll meet in small groups each week with a faculty member, professor and an upper-class guide. Professors and guides will provide you with analytic instruments and hold discussions to help you think carefully about what you want to accomplish, both inside and outside the classroom, during the next four years.

Look Outward
You’ll look outward by asking how to take the talents and strengths you have identified and use them not only to accomplish your own goals, but to serve those around you. You’ll have the chance to help others distant from the University through mission trips with groups such as Habitat for Humanity and the Presbyterian Church in Kenya or to serve those in our own community through groups like Character in Leadership, Students of Service, Champions of Character, and many others. You’ll receive a co-curricular transcript so that you will have an official university record to attach to your resume and job applications. We require our students to take an ethics class which has a service component during the second year.

Look Beyond
You’ll look beyond to learn about people, cultures, and ways of life different from your own. This happens through international travel to places like China, Guatemala, Malawi, Vietnam, Kenya, or Italy or within the U.S. to cities like Minneapolis, Chicago, or New York. As a member of the International Student Exchange Program (ISEP), University of Jamestown is your gateway to the world. Travel is not the only way to learn about new ideas and diverse perspectives; right on our own campus, you can take advantage of International Week, foreign film festivals, and interaction with international students.

Look Forward
You’ll look forward as you make use of university resources to prepare for the next step into the world of work or further graduate study. Your internship in a field of interest will provide the important hands-on experience potential employers want to see. Career Services offers individual assistance in searching for jobs or selecting graduate schools. The Backpack to Briefcase Conference each semester lets you choose among a wide range of sessions on topics such as networking, interviewing, resume writing, and many more. The Graduate School Committee is a group of faculty who will advise you as you consider furthering your education after your undergraduate days at University of Jamestown.
